LAVAL REJECTS PROPOSALS BY PETAIN: RUMOURS OF VICHY DISORDERS UNTRUE

Flandin Reported As Resigned: Darlan As Premier-Designate

NEW YORK, FEB. 9 (REUTER).—A MESSAGE FROM VICHY SAYS THAT M. LAVAL REJECTED MARSHAL PETAIN'S OFFER OF MINISTERSHIP UNDER HIS DOMINANT POWER.

Marshal Petain, it is reliably reported, named ADMIRAL DARLAN as the Premier-Designate and charged him to form a Cabinet which may exclude M. Laval and M. FLANDIN.

IT IS NOT KNOWN WHETHER THE PETAIN CABINET HAS RESIGNED. Rumours were spread that disorders had broken out in Vichy and that Marshal Petain and Admiral Darlan had left for North Africa, states a London message. Transocean ascribed these rumours to sources in Switzerland but did not say which, while in London there is no confirmation from any reliable quarter.

Most Disastrous Of All Counter-Attacks

Heavy Losses Inflicted On Black Shirts

LONDON, Feb. 9 (Reuter).—The Greeks have inflicted great losses on SIGNOR MUSSOLINI'S BLACK SHIRT TROOPS in the most disastrous of all counter-attacks yet delivered by the Italians in Albania, according to the Athens radio last night.

The Italian debacle took place on the central battlefield which the enemy left strewn with dead and wounded, the announcer said.

The Italians launched their abortive attempt to break through the Greek forces closing in upon them at a certain point in the Klisura mountain pass on the central front.

The Black Shirts, wearing their distinctive uniforms, tried to carry the day. Before they even had time to deploy for the engagement the Greeks stopped them. Greek guns supported the action of the infantry.

INTO CONFUSION

Great losses were inflicted on the Italians and every round fired scored direct hits throwing the enemy into confusion. After a short stubborn fight the counter-attack was virtually smashed by the Greeks.

Greek infantry, with fixed bayonets, then charged the Black Shirts as they fled in the greatest disorder down the steep mountain pass and through the narrow gorges. The Greeks took many prisoners including a number of officers.

Press observers on the front, the announcer said, remark that the losses suffered by the Italians in this battle prove it to have been the most disastrous of all counter-attacks yet delivered by the Italians. The unsuccessful attack was launched at the point where a few days previously the Greeks had smashed Italian counter-

KING'S MESSAGE TO WAVELL

LONDON, Feb. 9 (Reuter).—THE KING has sent a message to GENERAL WAVELL congratulating him on the capture of Benghazi.

The message says: "The capture of Benghazi is a notable landmark in the campaign in North Africa which is being carried on by you, with such brilliance, and the Imperial troops under your command in conjunction with the Royal Navy and the Royal Air Force.

"I warmly congratulate all ranks of the Army of the Nile and of the sister services on this further success which will rank high in military annals."

Reports reaching New York direct from Vichy state that the rumours are entirely unfounded.

The German News Agency yesterday morning disavowed the rumours, using the excuse that the original account had not been accurately reproduced.

Hitler's tactics are well known and he has set about to create the impression that Laval made his demands in his own right and not as a puppet of the Germans.

Another trick used time and again before by Hitler is to create confusion among the people of France in order to show that

NAZI TIGER CROUCHING IN THICKET

MR. AMERY WARNS OF INVASION

LONDON, Feb. 9 (Reuter).—The view that Herr Hitler's position is so difficult that he is bound to make an invasion bid sooner or later was expressed by Mr. L. S. Amery, Secretary for India, speaking at Islington (London) yesterday.

Mr. Amery said that they must realise that the next big move on the part of the enemy was imminent.

"The Nazi tiger, crouching in his thicket, is collecting himself for his next murderous and desperate spring. He is not as fresh a tiger as he was. He is somewhat heavy and dispirited with all the indigestible booty which he has swallowed."

Regarding invasion, Mr. Amery said that Hitler had been looking at that leap for months and the longer he had looked the less he had liked the prospect.

All the same, it was a possibility that could not be overlooked.

ADDRESS TO CANADIANS

LONDON, Feb. 9 (Reuter).—"It is my belief that the Germans may be forced to attempt an invasion," declared General Sir John Dill, Chief of the Imperial General Staff, addressing troops of the second Canadian Division "somewhere in England" yesterday.

General Dill added: "We have had wonderful and important successes in Libya but defence of these islands is what matters most. If they do have a crack at us I am confident that you are the men to take them on."

WILLKIE'S EVIDENCE IS AWAITED WITH GREAT INTEREST

After a debate lasting six days, the House of Representatives passed the Lease and Lend Bill to provide aid for the Allies, by 260 to 165 votes, states a London message.

The Bill now goes to the Senate where the Foreign Relations Committee has decided to adjourn until tomorrow when Mr. Wendell Willkie is expected to give evidence.

It is added that Mr. Willkie's evidence is awaited with great interest and is expected to clear up the position of many members of the Republican party. (Special)

Reuter says that although the isolationists are doing all they can to discount Mr. Willkie's evidence in advance, there is no doubt that it must have a strong effect on Congressional opinion.

The House of Representatives decided to make $1,300,000,000 the limit in value of military equipment, belonging to American forces or appropriated for them, which could be disposed of to foreign governments under the Lease and Lend Bill.

LONDON TESTIFIES

Meanwhile, Mr. Alfred Landon, former Republican candidate for the Presidency, testified against the Bill before the Senate Foreign Relations Committee.

AMERICAN PRESS TRIBUTES TO AUSTRALIANS

According to a message from Sydney, the American press gives the highest importance to the British victory at Benghazi and pays a high tribute to the Australian troops.

The NEW YORK TIMES says that the whole Arab world has been stirred by the British success and that the new Prime Minister of Iraq stated yesterday that he proposes to take steps to strengthen the nation's friendship with Britain. (Special)

46 One-Storeyed Shop Premises To Replace Old Rose Terrace

SHOPPING FACILITIES FOR RESIDENTS OF TSIM-SHA-TSUI DISTRICT WILL BE CONSIDERABLY AUGMENTED ON THE COMPLETION, in May, of 46 one-storeyed modern shop premises on the site formerly occupied by Rose Terrace.

Planned on the arcade principle, there will be three shops at the southern, and one at the northern, side of the 40-foot wide road, leading into the principal centre of the site, from Nathan Road.

Churchill's Message

"We have been deeply conscious of the love for us that has flowed from across the Dominions. There is the first of our war aims, to be worthy of that love and to preserve it," declared the British Prime Minister, Mr. Winston Churchill, when he broadcast to the British nation last night.

"Five months have passed since I spoke to the British nation and Empire on the broadcast," said the Premier, at the outset. "All the same it is a good thing to look around us from time to time and take stock of our affairs during these past four or five months."

"We have stood our ground and faced the two dictators in what seemed their hour of overwhelming triumph. After the heavy defeats of the German Air Force in August and September, Herr Hitler has not dared to attempt an invasion of this island although he had every means to do it and had made plans for it."

"He tried to break the spirit of the British nation first by the bombing of London and then our great cities. It has now been proved to the admiration of the world and of our friends in the United States that this form of murderous attack and terrorism, far from breaking the spirit of the British nation, has only roused it to more intense and firm resolution than has ever been seen in any modern nation."

"The whole of the British Empire is proud of the Mother Country."

"All through these dark winter months the Germans have dropped three or four tons of bombs on us to every ton that we have sent over to Germany."

Mr. Churchill went on to say that Britain had arranged that presently this would be the other way round.

Continuing, the Premier referred to the manner in which the medical authorities had prevented any serious epidemic from breaking out in the country.

Turning to events abroad, Mr. Churchill spoke in glowing terms of the Greek resistance to the Italians and the success which General Wavell had secured in Africa. "I have the craziest, cold-blooded, black-hearted Italians who had hoped to gain an empire by stabbing fallen France in the back was now in great trouble."

Mr. Churchill paid high tribute to General Wavell's strategy and skill in the conduct of the Libyan campaign and with General Wavell's name he associated those of General O'Connor, General Wilson and General Creagh.

On each side of this road will be located rows of shops, while 140 feet from Nathan Road will be found a circular block of buildings. The width of the road between these shops and those on the other side will be 25 feet.

All shops will be built of brick with reinforced concrete support columns. Every building, irrespective of type, with an incidentally, range from 224 square feet to 1,000 square feet, will contain a mezzanine floor as well as being fitted with modern sanitary conveniences.

COST OVER $100,000

The area of the site is approximately 53,000 square feet. When completed the development at scheme, which costs over $100,000, will prove a real credit to its designer, Mr. Chan Nam-cheung who, under the supervision of Mr. A.R.F. Rayen, M.R.S.I., was responsible for the plans.

In passing, it is interesting to note that Mr. Chan was also responsible for the plans of many large buildings in Hongkong, among which are one Chinese style residence in Stubbs Road, and the residence of a certain Chinese general in King's Road.

Messrs. Wo Kee & Co. are the building contractors.

Rose Terrace, demolition work on which was begun early this year, was built by one of the Portuguese pioneers of Hongkong in 1863-64, and formerly extended to where Middle Road now is. Part of the Terrace was, however, demolished a few years ago and in its place was erected a block of up-to-date shop and flat buildings.

One word of caution though which I must give. Hitler thought that when France gave in we should give in. We did not give in. And he had to think again.

"Any invasion now will be supported by much more carefully prepared equipment of landing craft which he must have planned during the winter months. We must all be prepared to meet gas attacks, parachute attacks and other plans which have been made with practised skill."

Mr. Churchill said that he had never underestimated the German strength but that he had confidence of the future.

"The British Empire and the whole English-speaking world will be on Hitler's tracks bearing with them the sword of justice," said Mr. Churchill, who then quoted a passage from a personal letter sent to him by Mr. Roosevelt, and said that his answer would be, "Put your faith in us and all will be well. We shall not fail or falter. We shall not weaken."

"No sudden shock of battle will shake us and we will finish the job."

Today's News Summary

THE SITUATION IN VICHY IS OBSCURE except for the official announcement that M. Laval has rejected the proposals made by Marshal Petain. Unfounded reports have been spread of disorders in Vichy and these were disavowed by the official German News Agency.

HEAVY BOMBARDMENT OF GENOA, important fortified sea base in Italy, was carried out by units of the British Fleet yesterday at dawn. Details are lacking but the operations are described as highly successful.

GENERAL BERGONZOLI IS THE Italian commander captured in Benghazi. He was formerly in command at Bardia but escaped before the British forces entered that town. Five other senior generals have also been made prisoners of war. The King has sent a message of congratulations to General Sir Archibald Wavell on the capture of Benghazi.

ITALIAN NAVAL LOSSES, INCLUDING three submarines, due to action by the Greeks are announced. An official statement in Athens reveals that all the Greek destroyers are in excellent condition.

MR. WENDELL WILLKIE HAS ARRIVED in New York from England. He is expected to give evidence on the Lease and Lend Bill tomorrow and his testimony is awaited with great interest.

EASTERN'S EASY WIN OVER NAVY

Despite the fact that they were weakened by the absence of three regular players, Eastern yesterday easily accounted for Navy in their Senior League match at Causeway Bay, winning by two clear goals after leading by a goal at the interval.

Eastern were without KONG SING-KING, C. T. LIU and CHUNG YUNG-SUM whose respective places were filled by Y. S. YEN, KUI WING-FOOK and FU CHAT-BUN. GIFF played in place of Robinson in Navy's goal.

Though Eastern's attack showed their usual fine understanding, the precision in their movements was not so pronounced as previously. Their opposite number, on the other hand, could not get going at all as a unit and only in spasmodic moments that they showed any semblance of combination.

SOUND DEFENCES

Both sides possessed sound defences though the Navy backs were more under pressure. GIFF, Navy's custodian, brought off a number of difficult saves and had a stout pair of backs, ROUGHLEY and O'REGAN, in front. On the other side of the field NG KEE-CHEONG dominated with his fine headwork which broke up many Navy promising movements.

Eastern's attack, as stated, showed good understanding but the wingers were not so much in the picture. FU CHAT-BUN, promoted from the juniors, seemed to be overawed by the occasion, his centre being very weak, while HAU CHING-TO found Roughley a hard obstacle to overcome. Navy forwards never worked as a unit while the inside men in foraging for the ball were often found too far back to lend support to any attacking movements.

Navy was the first to look dangerous but HONEYWILL was robbed by NG KEE-CHEONG just at the goalmouth. Play then veered to the other side and GIFF was seen in effecting a good save from the boot of Fu.

EASTERN SCORED

For the next 15 minutes Eastern monopolised the exchanges, the Senior Service being mostly on the defensive. Breaking away on the right Navy might have scored had Barber taken a first timer instead of trying to trap the ball.

Well into this half Eastern opened their account following a nice movement between CHEUNG and HYUI which culminated in the latter beating GIFF with a beautiful shot. This lead was maintained by Eastern till lemon time.

Straight from resumption Navy attacked strongly and again weak finishes and bad passing spoilt all their efforts. Ten minutes from the restart TSOAO put Eastern further ahead from a pass from Hyui. Thereafter the game fizzled out to a rather tame ending. Navy made several attempts to reduce the deficit but all these came to the same end.

NAVY:—GIFF; Roughley, O'Regan; Layne, Hazard, Britt; Hall, Le Page, Honeywill, Hendy and Barber.

EASTERN:—Lau Hin-hon; Ng Kee-cheong, Y. S. Yen; Kui Wing-fook, Hsu King-sing, Lo Wai-kien; Fu Chat-bun, Cheung Kam-hoi, V. K. Hyui, T. S. Tiao and Hau Ching-to.

SECOND DIVISION

In the Second Division of the League Royal Scots beat Navy by two goals to nil at Causeway Bay, the score at half time being 1-0.

THIRD DIVISION

Two third division league matches were played on the Chatham Road ground, both resulting in draws.

Amateur Sporting Association obtained their first point when they held International to a one-all draw. In the other game a one-all decision was also reached between Royal Air Force and 24th Royal Artillery.

ATHLETIC MEETING

Chinese Amateur Athletic Federation have accepted an Army challenge to an athletic meeting which will be held on Sunday, May 4. Proceeds will go to British and Chinese War Charities.

KOWLOON HELD SING TAO TO GOALLESS DRAW

Only two matches were played in the First Division of the League on Saturday owing to Volunteer duties and in both there were surprises in more ways than one.

On the Club ground, playing on a slippery pitch, Sing Tao dropped a vital point when they were held to a goalless draw by Kowloon, while at Caroline Hill the lowly-placed St. Joseph's put up a great fight against South China who won by the odd goal in three.

That they lost, Sing Tao had only themselves to blame, for they had the "lion's share" of the play but the weakness of their forwards saw many chances of scoring went begging. This plus the sterling display of Kowloon's defence, robbed the Chinese of victory.

SOUND ATTACK

Lapsley, Kowloon's keeper, handled safely despite the greediness of the ball while Lamb and Whitfield were equalled to everything that the "Chinese" forwards put out. Kowloon's attack was sound without being brilliant and went about their work with a purpose. Their movements, however, were invariably broken up by the Chinese defence before they became dangerous.

Fung King-cheong and Lai Shui-wing were off-colour and, like the rest in the forward line, appeared to have left their shooting boots at home. Kowloon's wingers, Truscott and Matthias, were very prominent in the attack.

Sing Tao had had luck in not getting on several occasions, both Yeung Shui-yick and Fung missing by inches to score. In the course of the game Sing Tao netted twice but both goals were not allowed as the whistle had been blown for an infringement.

SING TAO: Cheong Wing-choy; Hau Yung-sang, Mak Shui-hoi; Chiu Ah-fai, Leung Wing-chiu; Soong Ling-sing; Yeung Shui-yick, Lai Shui-wing, Fung King-cheong, Kwok Ying-kee and Ip Pak-wah.

KOWLOON: Lapsley; Lamb, Whitfield; Humphrey, Maxwell, Remedios; Truscott, Jackson, White, Pereira and Matthias.

SAINTS' RESISTANCE

Putting up a surprisingly stiff resistance against their stronger opponents, South China, the lowly-placed St. Joseph's pushed the Chinese all the way but had to admit defeat finally by two goals to one.

In the first half the Saints gave a grand display and took the lead through a penalty by McDonald, while Lau Chung-sang retaliated. In the second half, however, South China exerted their superiority and took full points by virtue of a goal by Lee Wai-tong from the "spot."

SOUTH CHINA: Tam Kwan-kon; Tsang Chung-wan, Lee Kwok-wai; Lau Hing-chol, Lam Tak-po; Tse Kam-hung; Lee Tak-kee, Chan Tak-fai, Lee Wai-tong, Lau Chung-sang and Lee Shek-yau.

ST. JOSEPH'S: Tsang; Hussain, Bowen; Castilho, Leonard, Lau Wing-kwong; Cruz, Santos, McDonald, Gomes and Costa.

BABY'S BIRTH PUZZLE

London—Lizzie Ireland, described as alias Marcia, Lady Haldon, 62, Independent, who, with her nurse-secretary, Isabella Blackett, 50, is on trial at Chester Assizes, gave evidence recently.
The prosecution alleges that a child born in 1939 was represented by Ireland to be her son by the late Lord Haldon after she had "adopted" it for a brief period from its real mother. The child was baptised as Lawrence Edward Broomfield Haldon.
The two women plead not guilty to charges of conspiracy to make a false statement regarding a birth, causing a false entry in a register of births, and to a charge of forgery under the Registry Act. Ireland, in evidence, said that her name was Marcia Florence Ireland, and her address was Yukon-road, Balham. She had been engaged to Lord Haldon's father, the previous Lord Haldon. She did not get to know the Lord Haldon mentioned in the case until January, 1938.

NULLITY SUIT
She had a suite of rooms at the Piccadilly Hotel, London. At that time she was married to Mr. Clive Lynwood. There was a nullity suit against him down for hearing, and Lord Haldon asked her to marry him immediately it was over. The suit came on May, 1938, and she was granted a decree against Lynwood, who was known as Lord Clive, the name which his friends called him.
In June, 1938, she and Lord Haldon went to Edinburgh and at the Royal Hotel were married, according to what Lord Haldon said, was the Scottish law.
Questioned about Mrs. Bastford, to whom, according to the prosecution, a baby was born on Feb. 19, 1939, she said Mrs. Bastford had a baby and did not know what she was going to do with it. Ireland promised to pay for its keep at a home. Lord Haldon was starving when she met him.

CAPTURE OF BENGHAZI PRELUDE TO ELIMINATION OF ITALY FROM THE WAR

Warm Praise For Brilliant Exploit Of General Wavell

LONDON, Feb. 9 (Reuter)—The speed and brilliance of General Wavell's campaign with the skillful and whole-hearted co-operation of the Navy and Air Force, were warmly praised in London editorials yesterday on the occupation of Benghazi, which as The Times remarks, "completes the conquest of Cyrenaica in strategic fact if not in terms of acres."

The journal adds: "There will be no further resistance nor is any Italian counter-offensive to be feared. A more interesting question is whether, to what extent and how Germany intends to increase aid to Italy which she has already rendered—without any effect so far upon General Wavell's campaign—by the establishment of an air base in Sicily."

These German aircraft, The Times thinks, will doubtless continue to give trouble but they can and will be combatted.

Referring to Hitler's negotiations with Vichy, The Times says the fact remains that Germany has been completely surprised by the suddenness and magnitude of the Italian disaster, so that the initiative in that part of the world has passed into our hands.

Whatever the upshot of this new pressure upon France we are ready in a far better situation to meet any new attempt to wrest from us command of the Mediterranean.

STRATEGICAL COMMAND

The Daily Telegraph says: "With the capture of Benghazi, General Wavell has completed the conquest of Cyrenaica, incomparable and most valuable part of the Fascist Empire."

"We obtain the most populous city in Cyrenaica, a port much improved by costly Italian effort, and a good air base."

"The strategical command of the eastern Mediterranean is secured to us now that Cyrenaica as well as Crete is at the service of our Navy and Air Force."

The Daily Mail declares Italy is becoming encircled by British air and sea bases. Benghazi, Crete, Greece and possibly Albania form a ring of advanced striking points 600 miles nearer Italy than our former base at Alexandria.

IL DUCE FINISHED

"Mussolini as a force is finished. He knows it. So does Hitler."

The New Chronicle is of the opinion that General Wavell's victories are blows not only at an already reeling Italy but at Germany as well who, it would appear, is hurrying south to patch the yawning fissures in the Fascist bastion.

History may yet prove that the hurrying began too late.

PRELUDE TO ELIMINATION

The Daily Herald says this victory is much more than a nail in Mussolini's coffin. It inaugurates the funeral of the Duce.

AFRICAN FRONT OPERATIONS

Successful Sorties By British Patrols

CAIRO, Feb. 9 (Reuter)—British operations south of Benghazi are proceeding satisfactorily, announced yesterday's General Headquarters' communique which also reports progress on other African fronts.

In the Keren area of Eritrea British pressure is increasing, while further south British troops are continuing the pursuit of the enemy who is withdrawing towards Arreza.

In Abyssinia, the British mobile units are pressing forward along the road to Gondar.

In Italian Somaliland, penetration by British patrols is successfully continuing, concludes the communique.

FORCED MARCH

In the operations leading to the capture of Benghazi, a British armoured formation made a forced march of 150 miles in thirty hours, brushing aside resistance en route, to close the enemy's last line of retreat.

Surprised by the speed of this brilliant exploit, the enemy, endeavouring to withdraw from Benghazi, found themselves finally hemmed in.

A numerically superior enemy or armoured forces, supported by infantry and artillery, then made determined efforts to break through our cordon. Every attempt was repulsed with heavy losses and the enemy ceased fighting after sixty of their tanks had become battle casualties.

Large numbers of prisoners are now surrendering, including an Army Commander, a Corps Commander and many other senior officers. Quantities of war material have been captured.

AIR ATTACKS ON BRITISH ISLES

Nazi High Command Communique

LONDON, Feb. 9 (Reuter)—A German High Command communique yesterday mentions attacks on the British Isles by several single German bombers and claims that gas-works in a Scottish East Coast town were set on fire by a low level attack.

The communique also says that a small merchant vessel was destroyed by a direct bomb hit off Dundee.

On Friday evening and during the night the communique adds, German bombers attacked aerodromes at Luca and Halsar and a seaplane base of Marsa Sidirocco and port installations at Valetta in Malta and states that bomb hits destroyed hangars and barracks, causing large fires.

R.A.F. RAIDS

It mentions Friday night's R.A.F. raids on Channel ports and states that no relevant damage was done, adding that one enemy plane was brought down.

It may be recalled that a R.A.F. communique stated that the R.A.F. suffered no losses during this raid.

Prominent S'hai Banker Kidnapped

SHANGHAI, Feb. 9 (Reuter)—Ying Ing-seng, 55-year-old Chairman of the Chinese Gold Bar Stock Exchange, was kidnapped by four men in front of his home in the western district, adjacent to the International Settlement yesterday morning.

The victim's car was later found abandoned.

Mr. Ying is well known in banking circles and has been a resident of Shanghai for the past 30 years.

The kidnapping is believed to be political as Mr. Ying has been associated with the old Chinese Gold Bar Stock Exchange which is a strong rival to the newly-formed Gold Bar Exchange. The latter is believed to be sponsored by the Nanking regime.

conducted wholly in Japanese, of which language defendant was practically ignorant.

The defending counsel also spoke only Japanese.

Training air observers and navigators in Britain is continuing at full speed. Here are navigators getting their instructions for a night flight at a West Country aerodrome; the pilots of which are all Poles.

Nippon Drive On Chungking Anticipated In The Spring

CHUNGKING, Feb. 9 (Reuter)—While the outcome of the Southern Honan fighting still remains to be seen, well-informed Chinese quarters here state that the Japanese drive to Honan appears to be nearing its conclusion without achieving any important results.

It is now revealed when the Japanese launched the drive from Singyang on January 21, outwardly the Japanese had four divisions but actually the Japanese strength in the drive totalled two and a half divisions.

The Japanese columns pushed during early stages of the drive northward along both sides of the Peiping-Hankow railway, apparently with Chengchow as the objective, but after reaching Siping, the Japanese columns turned westward in the direction of Wuyang.

The Japanese main strength then pushed southwestwards towards Nanyang which fell into Japanese hands on Wednesday afternoon.

After vigorous Chinese counter-attacks, Chinese forces claimed to have recaptured Nanyang on Thursday night, after which Japanese forces retreated southwards in the direction of Tangho.

HEAVY CASUALTIES

It seems that the Japanese forces are at present continuing the retreat towards Tungsheng or, in other words, falling back on their bases in the vicinity of Singyang.

The same quarters claim that the Japanese suffered heavy casualties during the fighting.

The Chinese military had advance information of the impending Japanese drive, at least a week before the push began, as the Chinese had heard of the heavy concentration of Japanese troops and of mechanised units in the vicinity of Singyang.

Therefore the Chinese High Command rushed strong forces into Southern Honan where they arrived in time to meet the Japanese attack.

It is further stated that Japanese forces in the drive clashed with two of China's strongest military units, which dealt very severe punishment to the Japanese columns, resulting in Japanese abandoning the objective of their campaign and turning southwestwards, retreating back towards their bases.

SPRING BATTLE

Well-informed Chinese quarters here, however, predict an early outbreak of a big Sino-Japanese battle in the Spring.

It is believed that the Japanese may make a desperate drive towards Chungking from Ichang along the south bank of the Yangtze via Enshih, near the Hupeh-Szechuen border.

It is estimated that the Japanese will require 15 divisions for the drive but that transportation will be the principal difficulty of the campaign.

With him were Rear-Admiral Hikojiro Suga and four other naval officers.

The machine, which was on its way from Canton to Hainan Island, struck a mountainside in Kwangtung Province.

'Mickey Mouse' Releases Bombs On Germany

Nobody knows who first gave the nickname of "Mickey Mouse" to the electrical distributor which releases the bombs from the racks of R.A.F. bombers. The name goes back four years at least, but its origin is now a mystery.

Pulling his "Mickey Mouse" is the last and simplest action in a series of highly intricate moves which fall to the lot of the bomb-aimer.

In the very earliest days of air bombing, sighting was a primitive matter; there were no proper instruments and bombs were dropped largely by guess-work.

The bomb-aimer, for instance, might squint down past the leading edge of the wing, releasing his bombs as the target came into line with it.

It was the best he could do, and small wonder that bombing was a very inaccurate business.

Nowadays the bomb-aimer needs to be a mathematician and a lightning calculator. With the aid of a "ready reckoner," known as the Computer, he allows for height, speed and wind direction, atmospheric pressure and temperature, and adjusts his bomb-sight accordingly.

He must also allow for the "trail-angle" of the bomb, that is to say, its direction on release. This depends on its shape and weight.

In peace-time practice bombing there is little to distract the bomb-aimer while he makes these calculations. In war, he is up against enemy fire and he has to set his bomb sight with the least possible delay.

To save time the target maps and photographs are often memorised before the aircraft takes off.

At the moment of bombing the bomb-aimer gives the pilot direction. The bomb sight is set and the run across the target is made. It is essential that the aircraft be kept on an even keel and that its course, air speed and height should remain constant during the few precious seconds of the run in.

The bomb-aimer is forward in his cockpit, connected by telephone with the pilot.

His eyes are on the bomb sight and his hand on the Mickey Mouse.

"NOW".....and round goes the handle.

Peters was one of the number of Britons who were arrested in January last year.

The sentence was pronounced in September at Kobe following a trial

On the application of Sgt. Mann of S.B., who was in charge of the case, defendant was remanded for a week.

A bail of $1,000 was granted.

DOCTORS NOT ALLOWED TO AID DENTISTS

The Hongkong Medical Board has warned local dentists against associating with doctors registered under Section 7 (d) of the Dentist Ordinance, despite the fact that no line can be drawn clearly between qualified and unqualified dentists as inclusion in the Dental Register is concerned.

The new sub-section has aroused the sharpest protest of properly qualified dentists as, it was observed, under the sub-section it is only necessary that the applicant should be engaged in the practice of dentistry as his principal means of livelihood at the date of the commencement of the new Ordinance, and no professional qualifications are required.

It was pointed out that although many unqualified dentists are familiar with extractions, fillings and other practice yet they would be at a loss as to the employing of many injections and drugs used in modern dental surgery.

Should an emergency arise, doctors are, under the new warning, technically not permitted to associate with even properly qualified dentists.

H.K. TO HAVE SANATORIUM TO COMBAT T.B.

Generous Offer Of Mr. Fok Po-choi

The Hon. Mr. M. K. Lo, Chairman of the Council and Executive Committee of the Hongkong Anti-Tuberculosis Association, disclosed, at the reception given by Hon. Dr. P. S. and Mrs. Selwyn-Clarke to Mr. Fok Po-choi yesterday, that it was the hope of the Association to purchase the land and building at Shouson Hill, the property of Mr. J. M. Wong, for use as a sanatorium.

The cost, said Mr. Lo, was $35,000 but Mr. Wong has kindly offered to donate $2,000 towards the funds of the Association, leaving the net amount payable $33,000.

The Crown rental was in the region of $400 per annum. Salaries for the nursing staff would absorb about $4,000 yearly, whilst the maintenance cost would be about $8,000 annually. The whole cost of the upkeep would, therefore, be about $12,400 yearly.

Mr. Fok Po-choi, the son of the late Mr. Fok Chi-ting, has offered to donate the whole of the capital cost of the scheme ($36,000 inclusive of the cost of technical and hospital equipment, furniture and linen), leaving the Association with the task of raising the cost of upkeep. The only condition attached to the offer was that the sanatorium should be named after the late Mr. Fok Chi-ting.

Mr. Lo concluded with an appeal to all those interested in the work to not only support the Association but also to interest their friends in the campaign against tuberculosis—"the white plague in our midst."

ASSETS OF COLONY

The financial statement at the end of September, 1940, shows the Colony's excess of assets over liabilities to be $18,734,573 to which is added $5,717,584 revenue in October. From this total is deducted the expenditure in October which leaves an increased excess of assets, the figure being $21,094,070.

OCTOBER FIGURES

The comparative statement of revenue and expenditure for the period ended October 31 last year is published in the Government Gazette.

Revenue for that month was $5,717,584 as against $4,479,810 the previous October. For the year up to the end of October, revenue amounted to $42,279,211 as compared with $34,775,227 for the previous year.

On the expenditure side the amount spent in October was $3,358,187 as against $3,180,649 the previous October, while during the year up to the end of October last year, $38,276,311 was spent compared with $31,051,792 during the corresponding period of 1939.

Noticeable features in the accounts are $500,000 more received from Court fees, etc. than was received in October, 1939. War Revenue in October brought in $582,698. On the other side of the accounts "War Expenditure" in October was $250,235.

THE UNUSUAL IS HAPPENING

LAST WEEK, a British war correspondent, Mr. William Forrest, gave a highly interesting talk in London on the prospects of a German invasion. He discussed, in a lucid manner, the preparations which Britain had taken to meet it, the likely points at which such an attempt would be attempted and the several obstacles which the Germans would have to overcome before a landing on British soil could be successfully made. Mr. Forrest wound up a particularly fine discourse by quoting from a letter which a yokel from the North had received from his mother, in which the old lady declared: "Dad hopes the Germans do come, because 'e says they 'aven't got a dog's chance!" Mr. Forrest's views on the subject drew a quick rejoinder from the German radio on Thursday night, when one of its regular commentators, described as "Scrutator," questioned Mr. Forrest's authority to discuss the subject of invasion, particularly in reference to probable German plans, and concluded with the very pertinent remark that the British must remember that it is always the unusual that happens in war.

VERY, VERY TRUE, INDEED! "Scrutator" was not telling the British people anything that they did not know when he made this statement. If "Scrutator" has a good memory, he would doubtless have cause to remember that the Germans have been experiencing a series of more unusual happenings than the British have. Let us remind "Scrutator" of just a few of these unusual happenings, which can hardly be regarded as having turned out to the advantage of the Germans. There was the Battle of the La Plate, where three daring British light cruisers com-

Mannheim
Raided

Although weather conditions were most unfavourable, a small force of aircraft of the Bomber Command carried out attacks on Mannheim, states a London message.

Single craft from the same command bombed targets at Rotterdam and Flushing and also attacked supply ships, escorted by destroyers, off the southern coast of Norway.

One British aircraft was reported missing from these operations. (Special) pletely disabled a powerful German pocket battleship armed with far superior weapons of attack and defence. That was surely an unusual happening and one is inclined to wonder whether three German light cruisers would take the unusual and daring course of making a similar attack on say, Britain's latest battleship, the King George V! Experience of contact with the German navy has shown that it will probably go to very unusual lengths to avoid such a battle as that which occurred off the La Plate.

"SCRUTATOR," we think, must agree that the British feat of evacuating an army of 350,000 men from the shores of Dunkirk was another unusual happening. The Germans realise today what an enormous advantage they missed when they allowed themselves to be beaten by a feat which will go down in history as one of the most daring and courageous episodes of the war. Had the Germans succeeded in preventing this vital part of the British army from leaving Dunkirk, it would have meant a great deal in their future calculations of the resistance which Britain was likely to offer in the event of an invasion attempt and here again the Germans, by making an unusual blunder, failed to carry home the attack which might have turned the tide of battle in their favour. To pass on to other instances—the unwarranted attack made by the Italians on Greece was surely a little unusual, to judge from the method and manner in which it was started, but what is still more unusual is the way in which the Greeks drove back the Italian forces from their territory and are now continuing to chase them across Albania.

NO ACCOUNT of these unusual happenings will, of course, be complete without a reference to the situation in the Mediterranean. The success with which General Wavell and his Army of the Nile have been hustling the Italians across the Libyan desert, until now they are not retreating, but actually running away from the British advance, will certainly be recorded amongst the most unusual events of the war. General Wavell's tactics and strategy were unusual, the speed of the advance of his forces in covering over 400 miles was even more so and the spectacle of the lesser gangster's hopes of a Roman Empire in Africa crashing down over his head is the most unusual that the world has ever been privileged to witness. What will not be unusual will be the final defeat of Nazi power and tyranny, because even "Scrutator" must be aware that that is exactly what Britain has undertaken to do—that the world expects it and that it will happen, no matter how difficult it is going to be.

WAR OF NERVES:
NAZI PRESSURE ON VICHY
PART OF OLD GAME

Within the last few hours we have had a glowing example of German propaganda methods. There is not the slightest doubt that the Germans tried to start a story of revolution in unoccupied France. The purpose of that having failed, these rumours are now denied even by the Germans themselves," said MR. CYRIL LAKIN, B.B.C. news commentator, when he broadcast from London yesterday.

"It is all part of the old game," continued Mr. Lakin. "Because these methods of propaganda succeeded with the German people in the very beginning, Herr Hitler has gone on with them. Now its full force has been directed against Marshal Petain and the Vichy Government."

WAR OF NERVES

"Herr Hitler hopes to seduce Vichy and to weaken its resistance by a war of nerves. The Germans are not deterred by its failure—still they go on and the marvel of it is that there is anyone who can believe them."

"No one can say that they have not been warned. Even in Herr Hitler's 'Mein Kampf' it is laid down that 'those nations which lay down their arms without being forced to do so, subsequently prefer to submit rather than change their fate by armed action. The shrewd conqueror will always enforce his will on the conquered only by stages'."

"Those are Herr Hitler's own words," continued Mr. Lakin. "If you compare his own words with his recent actions in Vichy, there is no need to say more on the subject. The trick tried last night was to give the Germans an excuse for taking protective action. This time it has failed, for the moment, at any rate."

CLOUD OF RUMOUR

"In all this cloud of rumour about Vichy, it is difficult to find the true facts. Even M. Flaudin's position is not clear and the story of his resignation was put by the Germans for the same purpose. The only piece of news we can be sure at all is that M. Laval has refused to serve as a Minister of States in the Vichy Government. "Here is a French politician, who only two months ago was dismissed by Marshal Petain in the interests of the country, as the Marshal said, is now in a position to lay down conditions and to negotiate with his former chief and even in a position to reject his offer."

"It is because M. Laval has lost all sense of nationality that the Germans are supporting him. M. Laval is now waiting for a bigger and better offer from Marshal Petain."

MATTER FOR DOUBT

"What M. Laval is doing is to threaten the Vichy Government with the German occupation of the rest of France. But it is a matter for doubt whether the Germans have any real intention of occupying the rest of France."

"Their troops are scattered all over Europe and the lines of defence necessary for occupation are wearing very thin. The French know this, but they are afraid to break off relations altogether because they fear further economic pressure and because of the French prisoners of war in Germany."

"If the Germans wish M. Laval to be installed at Vichy, you may be sure it is for some definite reasons—they want the French Navy and the use of the French bases in the Mediterranean. They believe that if M. Laval has a position of authority in Vichy they might get the Navy."

LAVAL'S GAMBLE

"We know M. Laval," said Mr. Lakin. "He is now gambling everything on a German victory. That does not worry us, because in the past M. Laval has always been wrong in his political convictions. It was so in 1917 and again in 1935, when he preferred

A.R.P. Boy Saves
Six In Cellar

"I'll do me best." That's a man's motto—and one hard to live up to when danger is near and the call is for stonecold courage. But Jackie Reynolds, 18-year-old A.R.P. messenger, said those four words and, unafraid, wormed his way through loose beams to save six people from a bomb-wrecked cellar.

Jackie lives at Edgbaston-road, Walsall Heath, Birmingham. The story of heroism was revealed to the "Daily Mirror" in a letter from a Birmingham group warden.

This is the letter:—

One night two houses were hit by a high explosive bomb. The incident was reported at the post by a warden two minutes later.

Eight people were trapped in the cellar of one house. We heard them calling to us through a hole on a level with the garden.

The big bay window frame, which had been blown out by the explosion, lay across it.

I shone my torch into the cellar and counted six people and two dogs.

THE LOOSE BEAM

The ceiling had collapsed at the far end, and at our end was held up only by a loose beam which looked like slipping at any moment.

Young Jackie Reynolds was by my side. He said: "Shall I go down?" I told him he would be risking his life, but all he said was: "I'll do me best. Just tell me what to do."

He slithered down feet first and got busy in the light of several torches. He helped up the three people nearest to us, a man and two women.

We heaved them up, but the remaining three (two women, a man) and the two dogs were not going to be so easy.

The man was lying back in his invalid chair unconscious. His wife, a heavy woman, was face down on his lap, also unconscious. Her feet hidden in the debris.

First we passed some water down to Jackie for the woman. It revived her a lot. Jackie talked away to her.

Now came his most delicate and difficult task. The woman was not so difficult, because she could at least walk, and he helped her up to us, but the man and wife were heavy.

I asked him if he could manage to roll them one at a time on to a sheet of corrugated iron if we let it down. He gave us the usual reply: "I'll do me best."

He passed the dog up first. Then we slid down the corrugated iron sheet, which he wedged firmly. Then I dropped the end of a rope down to him and told him to tie it firmly round the man's chest.

Jackie is not a strong lad. But again he said: "I'll do me best." After a hard struggle he managed to tie the rope and roll the man only a little on to the metal sheet.

While Jackie guided, we pulled the man from under his wife and so up to the opening. Jackie could not turn the woman over on her back, but he managed to get her head and chest on to the sheet.

The woman was the sixth person Jackie had rescued, and it had taxed his strength severely.

But before he allowed himself to be helped up, he borrowed my torch to see if he could find the other two women. They were invisible under the debris, and, as the rescue squad were working from behind the house to reach them, we left it to them and helped Jackie up.

He mumbled something about "Only did me best" and vanished.

NOTE.—The rescue squad reached the two missing women an hour later. One, Miss Barbara Rogers, was dead, but the other, Miss Shaw, came up almost unhurt and asked for a cigarette.

DELIBERATE ATTEMPT TO BLACKGUARD BRITAIN

Startling Disclosures On Attack On French Plane

LONDON, Feb. 9 (Reuter).—The aeroplane carrying M. Jeanne Chippie, famous Paris police prefect, to Syria on November 27 last year, was shot down by an Italian aeroplane.

This categorical statement is made by France the Free French newspaper, published in London, in the course of an arresting six-column article which gives documentary evidence claimed to be a complete repudiation of the Axis propaganda allegation that M. Chippie's plane was shot down by the British.

BENGHAZI SEAT OF GOVT. OF CYRENEICA

Valuable Base For Allied Operations

LONDON, Feb. 9 (British Wireless).—Benghazi is a clean modern city of 65,000 inhabitants of whom 20,000 are Italians and is capital and seat of the Government of Cyrenaica.

It has a very large and well sheltered harbour and its embarkation facilities for personnel and stores are excellent. As to repair facilities, there are engineering works capable of undertaking minor repairs.

The outer and inner breakwater on the north side of the harbour enclose a port which has an area of 370,000 square yards. The port can be entered in any weather but in bad weather it is not always possible to berth alongside the mole of the new port.

The new harbour, which was completed in 1935, has depths varying between three and a half and seven fathoms and thus large cruisers can use Benghazi but it is doubtful whether a battleship could be successfully moored in the harbour.

EXCELLENT AIRFIELDS
By land, Benghazi is the centre of communication of the province. From it both the roads and only railway of Cyrenaica radiate. Benghazi is provided with excellent airfields which are situated at Benghazi itself and there is a seaplane base.

The distance of Benghazi from Sicily is about 430 miles. There are coast defence batteries defending the port and the water supply is ample and good.

CLEARANCE OF BATTLEFIELD

The latest communique from Cairo, according to a London message, states:—

LIBYA—Advance elements of British armoured forces have occupied a town 150 miles south of Benghazi. In the meantime the clearance of the battlefield south of Benghazi is continuing.

In addition to the army commander and corps commander already reported captured, five other senior generals and many thousands of prisoners have been taken. Owing to the extent of the area covered in these operations it will be some time before the number of prisoners of war and the material captured can be assessed.

ERITREA—Although the enemy has reinforced his troops, operations are continuing successfully. Further south they are continuing the pursuit of retreating Italians.

ABYSSINIA—Progress along the Gondar road has been temporarily slowed up owing to extensive land mines which are now being cleared up.

Heavy Bombardment Of Genoa By Royal Navy

GENOA, important commercial city and fortified sea base in Italy, was heavily bombarded by units of the British fleet at dawn yesterday, states a London message, which adds that this is striking evidence of the complete control which the British navy has in the Mediterranean.

An Admiralty communique states: "A very heavy bombardment of the Italian base of Genoa was carried out by naval forces at dawn this morning. No details are available but preliminary reports indicate the operation was highly successful. The bombardment forces consisted of both heavy and light units."

R. A. F. ATTACKS
Genoa has a population of over

The evidence was collected and sifted by the Lisbon correspondent of France. The main proof is an Italian Air Ministry communique issued in the usual manner on November 28, but subsequently suppressed by the Rome censor.

Meanwhile, however, (no doubt following receipt of information from Vichy that an S.O.S. had been picked up from M. Chippie's ill-fated plane) all copies of the communique bearing this story were suppressed by the censors in the Chigi Palace in Rome and all the morning papers appeared the next day with the Air Ministry communique, less the story of the shot down plane.

LOOP-HOLE
"But there was one loop-hole in the censors' net. The great Turin newspaper La Stampa printed the entire communique as originally issued in the form of a special message from its Rome correspondent, who reproduced the whole story though noting that it was merely his own version of the Air Ministry communique."

"How this correspondent managed to escape the censors' net may never be known but the exact translation of a photostatic copy of his article in the La Stampa reads:—

"Our fighters patrolled for a long time south of Cape Teulada in order to protect piloting operations of our damaged destroyer Lancelotti and throughout the whole day carried out protective and interceptive sweeps around and off Sardinia, attacking an enemy plane of unspecified type which is believed to have been damaged."

VICHY STORY
The Lisbon correspondent of France then proceeds to give the Vichy end of the story which he claims to have pieced together as a result of interviews with officials, politicians and journalists from Vichy and Paris who have visited Lisbon since the end of November.

He says "the only information reaching Vichy was the S.O.S. from M. Chippie's plane picked up by the Marseilles-Marinade Station and the discovery by the French destroyer 'Bison' of an 'Air France' lifebelt floating in midsea. "The competent authorities in Vichy drafted a communique merely stating that an Air France plane had been shot down in the Mediterranean during an Anglo-Italian air fight."

LAVAL DISSATISFIED
"But this did not satisfy M. Laval who was then Vice-Premier and Foreign Minister. He gave the order that the words 'by British fighters' were to be added to the Vichy communique. "The next day," adds the Lisbon correspondent of "France," "all organs of totalitarian propaganda everywhere launched a fierce attack on Britain."

GEN. BERGONZOLI CAPTURED
It is revealed in a London message that the Italian corps commander who was captured in Benghazi is General Bergonzoli, known to the Italians as "electric whisks."

He was in command at Bardia but escaped westward before the British forces entered the town.—(Special)

U.K.-AMERICAN ECONOMIC CO-OPERATION

ATTEMPT TO PLUG BLOCKADE LEAKS

LONDON, Feb. 9 (Reuter).—Suggestions have been made to the United States for closer economic co-operation to strengthen the Allied blockade. This was revealed by Mr. John Wilmot, M. P., Parliamentary Private Secretary to the Ministry for Economic Warfare, in a speech at Bishop Auckland.

If, he added, the suggestions were adopted they would mean immediate assistance in closing the leaks in the blockade—those back doors of enemy supply through the Far East and Russia. The Ministry, he went on, was grateful for the unofficial collaboration already given by United States businessmen.

Often their decision had involved material sacrifice. They had refused to help the enemy by trading with him either directly or indirectly although by so doing had lost such business to less scrupulous or less clear-headed rivals.

Japanese To Evacuate New York

ACTION SEQUEL TO DECLINING TRADE

TOKYO, Feb. 9 (Reuter).—Mass evacuation of Japanese women and children from New York will take place late in March, states a special dispatch to the Asahi Shimbun from New York. About 150 members of families of Japanese businessmen and bankers will leave the city, according to the message.

Passage for the evacuees have already been booked on the Tatsuta Maru, sailing from San Francisco on March 27, and on the Nitta Maru, sailing on April 4.

The Asahi report ascribes the action to the fast declining volume of business of Japanese firms in New York as the result of American economic pressure against Japan.

This situation is expected to be further aggravated on Feb. 15 when the virtual embargo on the export of oil and gasoline becomes effective under President Roosevelt's proclamation on Feb. 5 extending the licensing system, the message adds.

Laval Rejects Petain's Proposals

Petaim's regime has not the full support of the French people.

LOYAL GUARDIANS
LE JOURNAL (published in unoccupied France) in a leader, entitled "Dignity and Honour" writes, "We are still loyal guardians of our Empire even at the price of our blood."

The paper added that when Petaim accepted the armistice proposals he saved three things—freedom of France, the Fleet and Empire.

"We have kept our word like honest folk."
A British broadcast told the French people to remain calm and not to give the Germans excuse for aggressive action.—(Special)

RIOTING DENIED
NEW YORK, Feb. 9 (Reuter).—The Vichy correspondents of the two American broadcasting companies denied the reports of rioting in Vichy circulated by German sources, and it is stated that all was quiet in Vichy.

The Vichy correspondent of the National Broadcasting Company said that Marshal Petaim was seen in Vichy on Saturday and added that M. Flaminio's resignation will not be accepted until a full Cabinet meeting was held.

The Columbia Broadcasting Co.'s correspondent stated that it seemed very likely that M. PETROU-TON, Minister of the Interior, will be sent to North Africa to be the civil Governor of Algiers, thereby reinforcing GENERAL MAXIME WEGAND.

PETAIM'S PROPOSAL
VICHY, Feb. 9 (Reuter).—Marshal Petaim proposed that M. Laval should enter the Government as a Minister of State and member of the Committee which would direct

"WATCH JAPAN" SAYS SUNDAY TIMES

LONDON, Feb. 9 (Reuter).—In a second leader entitled "Watch Japan," the SUNDAY TIMES sums up the opportunities the Thailand-Indo-China dispute, which it says Japan may or may not have instigated, gives Japan to establish herself strategically between Burma and Malaya.

The paper links this with Mr. Matsuo's claim that Japan must dominate East Asia including the Netherlands Indies.

No doubt, says the Sunday Times, she would like to seize the Indies, if she dared, to obtain oil and reconcile the Japanese to the failures in China.

Navally and aerially, she would be astride British communications with Australia and provided with bases for Indian Ocean operations.

The public would be well-advised to watch the situation so as not to be taken by surprise if it develops.

But, the paper adds, Japan should know the British strength nor are the Dutch unprepared while the chief brake on Japan is the United States, which, though no expressed guarantee is given to the Indies would surely not allow a seizure.

The paper recalls the old British friendship with Thailand and hoping she will not become Japan's tool.

JAPAN WARNED: NAZI INTRIGUE IN FAR EAST

"Here, in this country, we have not failed to notice German intrigue in the Far East, to which Japan seems inclined to lend herself more freely," said MR. CYRIL LAKIN, B.B.C. commentator, when he broadcast from London yesterday.

"Japan's arbitration in the dispute between Indo-China and Thai we hope will not let Thai forget her old friendship with us. Japan must know our strength and she must realise that we have not left our position unsafeguarded."

Italian Submarine Losses

In three months of war Italian naval losses inflicted by the Greeks total three submarines, and also transport ships of over 35,000 tons, including an Italian auxiliary warship, states a London message.

An official Greek statement in Athens refutes losses claimed by the Italians and states that all Greek destroyers are in excellent condition and not the smallest loss or damage was sustained by the merchant navy either in the Aegean or Mediterranean.—(Special)

CHIEF JUSTICE ON "AFTER THE WAR"

STIMULATING TALK AT Y.M.C.A.

A stimulating talk on the subject, "After the War," was given by the Chief Justice, Sir Atholl MacGregor, before a large gathering in the European Y.M.C.A. Discussion Group meeting last night. The Rev. Frank Short was in the chair.

Dealing with the failure of the last peace, the Chief Justice said: "It is a well established legal maxim that justice must not only be done but that it must also appear to be done. It is well too to remember that without humanity there is no justice. If the allies had applied these dicta to their victory in 1918 many of their subsequent difficulties would have been avoided."

TRAGIC HAPPENINGS
"What then is the task that lies before us when the war ends and victory is won? What lessons have we learned from the tragic happenings of the years since 1918, and how can we ensure, so far as is humanly possible, that the post-war years will see the birth of a world in which even the smallest of nations will be free from fear, free from want, and assured of justice within its bounds and self-respect in its dealings with its neighbours?"

After paying high tribute to Mr. Winston Churchill by saying that he had led Britain with courage, wisdom and quiet confidence through its darkest hours, demanding sacrifices from all the Chief Justice concluded: "The planning for peace calls for a leader who will have the courage and the vision to make the same demands." Sir Atholl was thanked by Prof. R.C. Robertson.

BRITAIN FREE OF RAIDS

LONDON, Feb. 9 (Reuter).—Britain was free of raids last night except for some slight enemy activity over the West and North-West counties.

A few bombs were dropped in Yorkshire but, says an Air Ministry communique, these caused no damage or casualties.

On Saturday afternoon, an enemy bomber was shot down in the sea off the East coast by R. A. F. fighters which, the communique concludes, makes a total of three enemy aircraft destroyed during the day.

Submarine War Begins In Spring, Says Hess

BERLIN, Feb. 9 (Reuter).—"The submarine war—what we understand by submarine war—begins in spring."

"England has only received a slight taste in advance of what is going to happen, after the pause. The greatest war machine of all time is ready, manned by German soldiers to bring a final victory."

These words were part of a speech made by Hitler's Deputy, HERR RUDOLF HESS, today when inaugurating new gauleiters (local Nazi chiefs).

The official German News Agency says that in the speech, he declared that the war was the last thing Hitler wanted in realisations of his plans and added that the German stranglehold on England was growing daily and hourly.

Another of his statements was that German submarines and the Luftwaffe were gaining increasing successes.

Seamen Tried To Take Beer Into Naval Base, Fined

Caustic comments on the conduct of the crew of a merchant vessel lying in local waters were made by a police officer when asking for deterrent sentences for two British seamen—members of the crew—in the Third Police Court, Singapore.

Described as "persons who had been drinking but who were apparently not drunk" at the time they committed the offence, the two seamen, R. Pass and H. Wier, were each fined $40 when they pleaded guilty to attempting to take beer into the Naval Base without permission, and obstructing a police officer in the performance of his duties, respectively.

"The crew of this ship has given, and is giving, us considerable trouble," remarked the prosecuting officer, Chief Inspector Higgins, when preparing for heavy sentence.

Actually, he added, the two accused had been warned not to bring beer into the yard just before they made this attempt.

"They should also have known that they were not allowed to bring alcoholic drinks into a naval establishment."

HOW SOUTH AFRICAN TROOPS TOOK FORT

The capture of Hobbs fort at Gori, 20 miles inside Abyssinia from the Kenya frontier, is described in a London message.

The capture was effected by South African troops supported from the air and by artillery bombardment.

The South African troops were able to capture prisoners and a large quantity of munitions and machine-guns.—(Special)

IMPORTANT PAPERS IN CHINESE HANDS

CHUNGKING, Feb. 9 (Reuter).—Important documents, revealing that Admiral Baron Osumi, accompanied by his Staff, were proceeding to Hainan to assume the post of Commander-in-Chief of the joint South Seas Fleet, were seized by the Chinese on Feb. 5 when an aeroplane was shot down by Chinese guerrillas near Chungshan, the Chinese National Military Council officially announced last night.

BALKAN NEWSMAN

WILHELMSTRASSE WAS AFTER HIM

A man whom Hitler's Wilhelmstrasse wanted to bound out of two countries of Europe has passed through Singapore. He is M. D. J. Tosevic, a middle-aged Yugoslav journalist and author.

After graduating at Prague nearly a decade ago, Mr. Tosevic took up an appointment on the editorial staff of the Official Czech News Agency, but when Hitler occupied Czechoslovakia he made Istanbul his headquarters and became the correspondent of Yugoslav and Turkish newspapers.

The German Foreign Office did not like his anti-Nazi and anti-Fascist writings, and in December 1939 they took diplomatic steps to oust him from Yugoslavia and Turkey.

The Turkish authorities, however, did not comply with the German request, and M. Tosevic continued to stay in Istanbul. He is now on his way to the U.S.A. as correspondent for his newspapers.

In an exclusive interview with a Tribune representative, M. Tosevic stated that the people in the Balkans believed that their salvation lay in co-operation with Great Britain and U.S.A.

The same view prevailed in official and non-official Turkish circles. Turkey had full confidence in her northern neighbour, the U.S.S.R.

The Turkish Government believed that their friendship with the U.S.S.R. would go on increasing, and that Russia would never become an active ally of the Axis Powers.

Russia's present policy was to avoid a possibility of the military might of Germany and Italy falling on her. There had never been a heart to heart understanding between Russia and the Axis Powers.

That was the reason why Germany had been extending her influence in the Balkans very cautiously and with always an eye on Russian reactions.

He said that the recent Hitler-Molotov talks were a stage-managed show and he believed nothing would result out of them.

Going into details about the Balkan situation and the war, Mr. Tosevic said:—

"The last world war was a struggle against pan-Germanism, for democracy, political and social justice, and the ideals of a new generation.

"The war caused immense damage to life and material in Europe and the world at large. The European nations therefore tried to co-operate for a lasting peace but that peace could not be achieved as the German barbaric mentality did not want to accept the principles of democracy.

THEY CALL HIM THE SAINT

Down in the East End they call him the Saint. Men raise their hats to this tall and thin figure striding through the streets like a friendly hurricane, his monk's gown blown out behind him, and an old and tattered raincoat on his shoulders.

From Whitehall went high officials headed by bulky Robert Boothby, Under-Secretary of State to the Ministry of Food, to pay tribute to this man whose work in the civilian front line has inspired the people of the East End.

Here is the story of the Saint, otherwise Father John Groser. Their faith in him is touching. They told me with tears in their eyes that hardly has the sound of a falling bomb passed into the sky than Father Groser is on his way to the scene.

SCRAWNY FRAME. If there are trapped men and women to be rescued, his scrawny frame is to be seen among the debris, his strong arms tearing at stones and wood, while his voice cheers trapped and rescuers alike.

Said one man: "It never seems to matter where the bomb falls, our Saint gets there with the first of the rescuers."

"You feel he is waiting round the corner for it to fall." But Father Groser is a practical Saint, and the poor who spend their nights in the air raid shelters wait impatiently for his coming.

In the early days of the bombing he was shocked by the fact that so many of the poor went to the shelters hungry and left even more hungry.

His church had little money, and he had less. He bullied, he implored, he coaxed, striking at officials and private bodies alike until mobile canteens to suit his needs were secured.

Now every evening with a band of willing helpers he takes his canteens from shelter to shelter, giving food and drink.

FEEDS THEM ALL. Tea is a penny a cup, sandwiches a penny each, if you have the money. If you haven't—well, Father Groser says: "Help yourself, I'll get the money somehow."

He feeds them all—Christians, Jews, Moslems—without thought of creed or race.

He is there when they go to the shelter and there when they come out to give them his blessing for their souls and his food for their bodies.

He found an empty church hall, and in the night the homeless who have left the ruins of stone and mortar trek there. He feeds them, clothes them, until the local authorities can take charge.

That is the story of Father Groser. Do you wonder that they call him the Saint?

NOT HAPPY DAYS, BUT LUCKY DAYS, SAYS F.D.R.

but felicitated the United States because "it is still living under a free peoples' philosophy" while no American cities have been blacked out.

"It is not that we are unconcerned with the plight of free peoples elsewhere," he declared. "It is because we believe in and insist on the right of the helpless, weak and crippled everywhere to play their part in life—and to survive."

"It is because we know instinctively that this right of the unfortunate comes under our free peoples' philosophy from the bottom up and can never be imposed from the top down."

World Poised Between 'Yesterday' & 'Tomorrow'

The following is a translation of an article appearing in the December issue of the "Rome-Berlin-Tokyo" magazine.

Since the appearance of National Socialism and Fascism on the international scene, the number of centres of unrest within the democratic world has been perceptibly reduced thanks to the former's determined attitude. Through the steadfast pursuit of their aims in the field of international relations, and particularly in regard to a sensible adjustment of territorial questions in Europe, both National Socialism and Fascism have succeeded in demolishing the superannated structure of democratic-masonic ideology. They have already partly replaced it by a new structure.

Those nations and states which have remained outside this new order of things find themselves now face to face with the question of whether they want to belong to this new Europe of tomorrow or not. Here and there the mentality of "yesterday"—which we oppose in our own spheres—may still be observed.

A few nations can still be found in no-man's land, because of their inability to make up their mind. They also stand between "yesterday" and "tomorrow"—not as active elements, not even as retarding ones, but as the victims of hesitation today, who will be deserted and forgotten tomorrow.

If one is to discuss, and no one seems to be able to escape such discussion, the problem of what course the development of Europe and of the world beyond it will take in consequence of Germany's war with England what, in other words, the "tomorrow" is going to look like, one has to consider certain facts. These facts will make appear the development not only logical but also natural and desirable.

NEW ORIENTATION. The recent history of our young and reawakened nations has witnessed a new orientation in regard to their own existence, to their relations among themselves and their respective living spaces. (The Three-Power Pact concluded on September 27 of this year is an all embracing manifestation of the idea of a new order. With it this idea has passed from the stage of ideological will to that of an established principle and of a right that belongs to us and our allies. It would be wrong to think of the individual steps taken by us for the purpose of national regeneration as of functions serving merely narrow self-interest.

The planning of our rise was always directed towards new wide spaces of world-politics, and was not meant to be confined to an autocracy in a political vacuum. We have never left the rest of the world in the dark as to our ideas about the life of the individual and that of nations. Adolf Hitler has created a new conception of life which is bound to alter the outlook of the world and which represents one of the important progressive steps taken by humanity.

The democratic world, at first, pretended to be surprised at such vigorous nations on the part, or the "nation of poets and thinkers." Later they rallied for a counter-stroke against an ideology which they recognised as constituting a danger to them. One had come to look at the "yesterday" as a permanent condition. For the reason the principle of the status quo was declared the unalterable foundation of all politics. British ideas, the British viewpoint and way of life were accepted as the only valid and right ones.

One had come to look at the political doctrine of Great Britain as the only decisive factor. They had fits at the Court of St. James when the representative of the national socialist Reich on the occasion of a Royal reception replaced the customary deep bow by the raising of the hand in salutation—which is for us the symbol of political will and racial kinship.

There can be no better proof of the obdurate intolerance of Great Britain's "yesterday" than the above little episode from the Reich's Foreign Minister's term as ambassador to London. It was at the same time characteristic of the British reaction to von Ribbentrop's mission in London which aimed at an Anglo-German reconciliation. This spirit of "yesterday" will have to be done away with now that England has refused to consider any form of voluntary dilapidation and has chosen the flat as the means of bringing about a decision. This is, therefore, the front: "yesterday" versus "tomorrow."

We are not interested in how a settlement of the inheritance between America and Britain, as regards the furnishings within their own home, is effected, as long as such settlement is not carried out on our backs. Having heard "so much from America in the way of admonition and moral evaluation, we should like to point out that the future will not be determined by the vanquished but exclusively by the forces capable of creating something new.

England is breaking down. Through the death grins of the British "yesterday" are already audible the triumphal fanfares of the dawning "tomorrow." Europe is reconstituting itself, the youthful nations and their friends have issued the call for collaboration, clearly and to be heard by all. Their march sets the pace for the coming century. This collaboration is the key note for the "tomorrow." One must decide either for it or against it, now. It is never too soon to join the marchers, but it may well be too late to do so.

NEWSMAN'S TRIBUTE TO CHINESE

The Far East Correspondent of the influential Chicago Daily News, Mr. Archibald T. Steele, accompanied by his wife, arrived in Singapore recently. He is en route to Thailand to "cover" the present situation there.

Mr. Steele has spent the last nine years in the Far East traveling extensively in China, Japan, India and Burma, but having his headquarters at Shanghai, says the Malaya Tribune.

He was in Japan a couple of months ago and this was the impression he gave me when I interviewed him at Adelphi Hotel.

"The Japanese are in a pretty difficult situation at the present time, both politically and economically. It is going to take very skillful statesmanship to extricate them from the present mess. They are going through a very drastic economical and political shake-up and there is an attempt to reorganise the Government on a totalitarian basis. Whether they will succeed or not is in the lap of Destiny."

He was in Shanghai two weeks ago, and he stated that pressure on Shanghai seemed to have lifted slightly, "but the situation is still of the nature of touch-and-go, and it is very difficult to foretell if there is any chance of alleviation in the near future."

Foreign business was getting worse and worse, particularly since last August, resultant on Japan's gradual restrictions.

BRITISH ENTERPRISE

American and British enterprise, he said, was almost completely shut out from the Yangtze Valley as very few permits for export or import were issued by the Japanese authorities.

"Shanghai itself carries on in spite of Japanese pressure and the Wang Ching Wei government, which is trying to worm into Shanghai's inner affairs," he stated.

In the rest of the occupied area, he continued, there was no marked improvement in conditions as a result of Japan's ambition to incorporate occupied China and Manchuria into their economic bloc.

Mr. Steele travelled to India about 18 months ago and he said that he was not only impressed but "staggered" by the tremendous complexity of the situation there. The innumerable castes, creeds and religions did not make it easy for him to comprehend the situation during his brief call.

He met Mahatma Gandhi, Mr. Subhas Bose and many other leaders, but his greatest disappointment was in not being able to keep an appointment with Pandit Nehru.

"Mahatma Gandhi is a remarkable man, the most interesting person I have ever met," he told me when asked for his opinion of the Mahatma. Mr. Subhas Bose, he said, was the exact opposite of the Mahatma. The latter was so mild and gentle while the former was dynamic and of the revolutionary type.

Talking of Chungking, Mr. Steele said that it was remarkable how the Chinese were carrying on magnificently in spite of Japanese air raids. There was no possibility of the Chinese making peace with the Japanese on the latter's terms, and he was of the opinion that the Chinese would continue resisting indefinitely till Japan was prepared to accept a just and honourable peace. And this Japan was not prepared to do at the present time.

The Wang Ching Wei treaty at Nanking in November last was a great disappointment to the majority of the Chinese who would not consider it a basis for a lasting peace, he said.

Mr. Steele hesitated to make a general statement on the situation as it affected the Far East, but commented that "the Far East was not the master of its own destiny." Affairs of the Far East were bound up with the European war, he said.

Place Sellers Operate Racket In The Tubes

Racketeers have found a new place to make money in—the Underground air-raid shelters.

As the business men noted one important point at the beginning of the blitzkrieg—women and children quickly got into the way of spending the early hours of the day hanging round the station platforms so that they would be first to stake claims to positions when evening came, writes a Sunday Express reporter.

Women would take up positions for their husbands and their sons and daughters who had to work until six o'clock. Children would do the same in cases where both parents worked during the day.

Racketeers asked themselves: If women and kids can do it, why not us?

So now they plant members of their gangs in all the favoured Underground shelters. These stingers stake up as many as twenty-five places "on one platform."

They hold them by placing little bundles of rags tied up to look like blankets. They keep a constant patrol on the places, particularly when the rush starts in the evening.

Then, when Mrs. Brown, of Stepney, arrives with her two children, having been crowded out from one station to another all along the line from Liverpool-street to the City, they catch her in her desperation and say:—"I was keeping this place for a pal of mine, lady, but you can have it—for a couple of bob."

I tried myself to find a place on three Central London tube platforms. It was impossible. All of them had been engaged from early morning.

None of the guardians would fall into my trap of offered money. "But I can tell you it goes on," said white-haired Mrs. Alford, of Holborn.

"Twice I had to give a porter sixpence, but most times I had to give a shilling to these men who make a business of it. It comes a bit hard to have to pay for your place down here, for you know, every time you go up the escalator for a wash or a cup of tea it costs you another three-ha'pence."

"You have to give up your ticket every time. So if you pay a shilling for your place and it costs you, on an average, nine-pence a night for going upstairs and maybe 1s. 4d. for a meal in the cafe round the corner, your night's shelter doesn't work out so cheaply."

This racket, in place-selling is operated mainly by gangs. Prices

GUARANTEE NEVER REGRETTED

An exchange of letters between General Sikorski and the late Mr. Neville Chamberlain took place on Mr. Chamberlain's resignation from the War Cabinet.

General Sikorski, in the name of the Polish Government, paid tribute to Mr. Chamberlain's high qualities of courage with which he always upheld his convictions.

"We Poles," he wrote, "while we remember all that was at stake from the very commencement of the struggle, will for ever be grateful to you for the loyal fulfilment of the Treaty of Alliance between our two countries."

OFTEN CRITICISED

In his reply Mr. Chamberlain said:—

"As you know, I have been often criticised for having given a guarantee to Poland, though not, I think, for having fulfilled it. But I wish to say to you that I have never regretted either step. If we had stood aside and seen Poland overrun without having lifted a finger to aid her we should have failed in our duty to humanity. As it was, we were unhappily unable to save Poland from the invader, but I am convinced that her new martyrdom will not have been made in vain."

"We have made her cause our own, and I rejoice to think that under your wise and courageous leadership Polish forces in all three arms are fighting beside us and are daily winning fresh laurels in the struggle. I trust that we may both live to see the victory which I am confident will be won by our countries, and that a free and independent Poland may then take her place once more among the nations of Europe."

TO CONTROL MARTEN TRAPPING

With a view to protecting the martens against extinction, new regulations governing the catch of this valuable fur-bearer will go into effect in the Northwest Territories on July 1, 1941, according to the Department of Mines and Resources, Ottawa.

The new ruling will establish a limit per trapper of two martens per year in Wood Buffalo Park, and in the area south of the Liard and Mackenzie Rivers, Great Slave Lake, Lockhart River, Artillery Lake, the Thelon Game Sanctuary, Beverley, Aberdeen, Schultz and Baker Lakes, and Chesterfield Inlet. North of this line the annual limit will be twenty animals.

Before trapping martens, trappers will be required to secure annual permits which will be issued without charge to holders of Northwest Territories trapping licences and to natives entitled to trap without a licence.

PRESENT ALL FELTS

The trappers are required to return these permits and present all felts taken under them to a Royal Canadian Mounted Police post before June 30 following the date of issue. The felts will then be marked and returned to the trappers.

The regulations also prohibit traders from accepting unmarked felts. This system has been in vogue for some years in the control of beaver trapping.

The annual marten catch in the Northwest Territories, which averaged more than ten thousand pelts annually in the ten-year period

DRASTIC DECREASE OF JAPAN'S INDUSTRIAL PRODUCTION

CHUNGKING, Feb. 10 (Central).—The Tokyo publication ORIENTAL ECONOMIST, in its issue of December, 1940 gives detailed index figures of Japan's industrial production which clearly demonstrate the fact that Japan's economic strength is decreasing steadily.

Industrial production as a whole reached its peak in August, 1939, when it was 9.6 per cent above the level of July, 1937, the month during which Japan started the war against China.

The latest figure given is for August, 1940, when production fell 5.8 per cent in comparison with its maximum height a year earlier, being no more than a mere 3.2 per cent above pre-war level. This is the result of three years' intense efforts to use every ounce of Japanese strength for the increase of industrial production.

The index of the output of industrial consumers' goods shows even a greater decrease on the basis of July, 1937—100 it dropped to 88.8 per cent in the average month of 1938, to 88.2 per cent in the average month of 1939, and to 72.9 per cent in August, 1940, which is the latest available figure. This

REACHED PEAK

The index of the production of "producers' goods," i.e., largely goods of direct or indirect military importance, reached its peak in August, 1939, when it stood at 24.1 per cent above the level of July, 1937. During the twelve following months, it decreased almost continuously, in spite of the greatest possible efforts of the Japanese Government to raise production, and in the average of the first eight months of 1940, the index was only 18.3 per cent above the pre-war level.

The production of iron, steel and machinery also reached its greatest volume in August, 1939, when it was 45.2 per cent above July, 1937. In August, 1940, however, it was only 24.2 per cent above pre-war.

The most unfavourable development has taken place in manufactured food and drinks. The index for this group in August, 1940, was 50.5 per cent below the relatively high level of March, 1939, and 36.3 per cent below the average of 1937.

Unguarded Prison Dormitory

Big Leo Utecht, the Minnesota prison warden with a ready smile that says "Beware," has set out again to prove that the way he was brought up to handle convicts wasn't the right one.

On the 1,000-acre prison farm, along with the inmates you had to be tough. He simply doesn't believe it. A while ago he put radio earphones in every cell. The dormitory proposed is newest theory in reformation. He still can be hard when the need arises, but mostly Mr. Utecht believes in rehabilitating men by making them feel like living again.

No sentry-patrolled walls surround the new $85,000 building. In it prisoners may play table tennis or billiards, or listen to the radio after their day's work. They may talk at meal times, and at bedtime they retire to dormitory quarters instead of cells. They may shave with safety razors every day. Only one guard stands by in daytime—two at night. Eventually Mr. Utecht will have 250 men there.

FORGED S.S. IMMIGRATION CERTIFICATES

The discovery of a forged certificate on a Chinese woman, who was eventually sent back to Hongkong from Singapore, has led to the belief that there is established somewhere in the Colony a plant for the production of forged immigration certificates of the Government of the Straits Settlements.

It was learned that, although over 30 forged certificates have been seized by the authorities in the course of raids in Wanchai and Shunshui during the week and several persons had been detained, the "hide-out" of this plant has not yet been located.

It was also stated that a forged Immigration Certificate of Entry of the Government of the Straits Settlements, can be purchased in the Colony for a sum of between $100 and $200.

Navy Keeps Vigil In Far Eastern Waters

(BY A SPECIAL CORRESPONDENT IN THE MALAYA TRIBUNE).
The Royal Navy is kept busy on its job in Far Eastern waters, and finds plenty to do although it may not have to combat daily attacks as do its ships in the Atlantic and elsewhere. Regular patrols are carried out, and ship crews are kept up to the mark by constant exercises.

These latter include gunnery both against surface ships and aircraft, and extensive torpedo exercises. The regular routine is kept up to a high standard with the hundred and one tasks to be carried out daily in any ship of the Royal Navy.

Tropical rig of shirt sleeves and shorts mitigates the heat of the tropics for those sailors and marines, whose comrades in northern waters are wearing the heaviest of kit in winter days and nights. Stand-easy periods are more pleasant in the tropics to the minds of many, although they are welcomed anywhere.

Accustomed formalities of naval tradition continue to be observed on occasion. Hands dress ship, for instance,
